April 19, 2013

by Pat Rogers

DISPATCH - APRIL 19, 2013 (8:12 a.m.)

EAST END OF LI, NY-

The Hamptons spring to life this weekend with new art exhibitions, a major survey show of drawings by Alice Aycock, the opening of LongHouse Reserve and a new interactive environmental installation at SoFo. Taken together, the indicators point to the beginning of the 2013 art season!

Here's where to find your part to play in the Hamptons art scene.

BRIDGEHAMPTON

SoFo (The South Fork Natural History Museum and Nature Center) - "The Expansive Field: - The Environmental Art of Christine Sciulli" opens on Saturday during the museum's Earth Day Celebration. "The Expansive Field" is a series of immersive projection installations located inside the museum and on the outside grounds. It will be on view from noon to 9 p.m.

The centerpiece of the piece is an indoor installation featuring geometric light projections that interact with organic material in an immersive experience, according to the museum. The piece is dependent on near-to-total darkness for participants to fully engage with the artwork.

The South Fork Natural History Museum and Nature Center is located at 377 Bridgehampton Sag Harbor Turnpike, Bridgehampton, NY 11932. www.sofo.org.

PETER MARCELLE GALLERY - "Karyn Mannix: Solo Show" has an opening reception on Saturday from 6 to 8 p.m. The exhibition includes large-scale works, photography and sculpture.
