“WATERSCAPES” presents paintings and photographs by Sally Breen and Marilyn Stevenson depicting the ever-changing East End “waterscape.” The inspiration for the works are natural scenes from the Hamptons and the East End but the art transcend the physical inspiration. In this exhibition, time, setting and atmosphere are beautifully evoked.

Sally Breen’s lyrical painting style and Marilyn’s dramatic photographs fill the gallery space with peace and knowing. Breen is based in Water Mill, NY. Stevenson is based in Southampton, NY and the NY Metro area.

“Contrast” by Sally Breen.

Breen has long taken her inspiration from the beauty of the ocean. Her paintings draw upon the continual change of light and the reflection from the water surrounding her. Ms. Breen's lyrical, contemporary paintings capture the very essence of light and water and are transformative for both the artist and viewer.

The artist is able to capture the enormity of the sky and the expanse of the ocean on canvas, while conveying the moods of the moment. Her paintings are a powerful metaphor for all that is beautiful, changing and hard to contain in life.

Stevenson's photography has been the subject of eight solo shows and included in over 60 group shows held across the United States. In addition, her work has been exhibited in Graz, Austria.
