Tickets are available for the hottest late night party in the Hamptons—The After Ten Party at The Parrish. A museum fundraiser, expect dancing, drinks and fun.

The Hamptons social scene turns up the heat this week with plenty of ways to have fun and support the arts. While many parties have their dance cards already filled, the Parrish has a few tickets remaining to its Midsummer Party After Ten provide the perfect way to wrap up a Saturday night.

The After Ten party is held from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Parrish Art Museum and features dancing, drinks and dessert and mingling with the art community and culturati in a festive social gathering.

The event features music by New York-based Coleman Music with catering by Olivier Cheng Catering & Events. Tickets are $200 per person in advance and can be purchased by clicking here. Tickets will be sold at the door for $250.

A summer highlight, the Midsummer Party and Midsummer Party After Ten has the added attraction of serving as a benefit for The Parrish Art Museum and supporting its year round programming. The evening typically attracts art collectors, artists, socialites, entertainers, philanthropists, and business leaders from the Hamptons and beyond.

It also provides the opportunity for a late-night look at the exhibitions on view at the museum. Currently on view are Chuck Close Photographs, newly installed and site-specific sculptures by Tara Donovan as part of The Platform series and curated exhibitions from the Parrish's permanent collection.
