

Museum Look - November 2015 on Long Island

November 2, 2015

by Sage Cotignola

Long Island museums are offering a strong slate of exhibitions worth seeing on Long Island this month. Both Hamptons art museums recently unveiled new shows across their galleries with the Nassau County Museum of Art poised to do the same in November. The Heckscher Museum of Art may just prove heading to New York City for Print Week may not be necessary through two exhibitions revealing a cross-section of printmaking methods and artworks.

Keep reading to discover options for art this month in Long Island museums.

DAN FLAVIN ART INSTITUTE - BRIDGEHAMPTON, NY

"DAN FLAVIN: ICONS" continues through April 30, 2017. The five wall-mounted "icons" on view bridge the mediums of painting and sculpture. The box-like constructions with painted surfaces and attached light fixtures were created between 1961 and 1964.

ON PERMANENT VIEW is an installation by Dan Flavin (1933-1996) of nine works in fluorescent light made between 1963 and 1981. The exhibition follows Flavin's art practice from when he began to work solely with standard fluorescent fixtures and tubes to just before the presentation of his new art form was realized.

Dan Flavin Art Institute is located on Corwith Avenue, about 1/2 block from Main Street, Bridgehampton, NY 11932. The museum is open weekends from noon to 6 p.m. For details and programming, visit www.diaart.org.
