July 19, 2016

by Hamptons Art Hub Staff

In this edition of NYC Things To Do through July 31, 2016 enjoy dance performances, music, lectures and more. All events will be taking place throughout New York City over the next two weeks. Hope some of these exciting events catch your eye!

1. Jason W. Moore Lecture

The Swiss Institute Contemporary Art New York presents "Lecture | Jason W. Moore on our Capitalogenic World: Humanity, Nature, and the Making of a Planetary Crisis" on Thursday, July 21, 2016 at 7 p.m.

On the occasion of the current exhibition, "Sam Lewitt: Less Light Warm Words," Jason W. Moore talks about how our current planetary crisis is rooted in capitalism's way of organizing nature cheaply for maximum profit. He will also cover how the end of "the long era of Cheap Nature" will require new, emancipatory thought and action to allow us to move forward. Moore is a historical geographer and world historian at Binghamton University, as well as the author of numerous books.

RSVP to rsvp@swissinstitute.net. The Swiss Institute Contemporary Art New York is located at 18 Wooster St, New York, NY 10013. www.swissinstitute.net.
