

IN PICTURES: Art Basel Miami Beach 2016

December 1, 2016

by Pat Rogers

Art Basel Miami Beach opens to the public today and remains on view through Sunday, December 4, 2016. Following is a First Look at some of the art, exhibition booths and the scene drawing the art world's attention this week in Miami and Miami Beach. A Critic's View on the art fair, written by Miami art critic Elisa Turner, publishes later today.

The 2016 edition of Art Basel Miami Beach (ABMB) presents 269 galleries from 29 countries located in North America, South America, Europe, Asia and Africa presented in seven Sectors. Last year, the art fair drew around 77,000 people through the doors of the Miami Beach Convention Center.

To see images from 2016 Art Basel Miami Beach, view our slideshow:

View Slideshow

Art Basel Miami Beach 2016. Photo by Carl Murray.

"Mach II" by Kenneth Noland, 1964. Exhibited with Acquavella. Acrylic resin on canvas, 98 x 208 inches. Photo by Carl Murray.

Real Fine Arts Booth with works by Maggie Lee. Photo by Carl Murray.

---

BASIC FACTS: Art Basel Miami Beach is on view December 1 to 4, 2016 at the Miami Beach Convention Center, 1901 Convention Center Drive, Miami Beach, FL 33139. Visit www.artbasel.com/miami-beach for more information.

All photos for Hamptons Art Hub's First Look at Art Basel Miami Beach were taken by Carl Murray. Carl Murray is a partner and Chief Marketing Officer for Art, Frankly; a platform providing information and exchanges for those seeking and posting jobs, spaces and opportunities within the art community. They are based in Brooklyn and Berlin.

---

Copyright 2016 Hamptons Art Hub LLC. All rights reserved.