If you're not already on the list, it may very well be too late. It is worth knowing that Phil Lesh & Friends keyboardist Scott Guberman is performing an intimate set at Bahr Gallery in Oyster Bay, NY on Friday, April 27, 2019. The concert is in conjunction with the gallery's exhibition "British Invasion" featuring concert posters and prints from master designers.

Guberman is expected to perform solo presenting a single long set of Grateful Dead music. Doors open around 7:15 p.m. with the keyboardist in the gallery before the concert that runs from 8 to 10 p.m. There is a $10 cover at the door with Bahr Gallery-style refreshments (beer, wine, soft drinks, snacks).

Email ted@bahrgallery.com to see if there's still room at the inn. The concert is expected to sell out.

Guberman gained recognition in the Grateful Dead community in the early 2000's while playing Hammond organ regularly with Rock & Roll Hall of Famer and former Grateful Dead keyboardist Tom Constanten. During this time, Guberman also toured with Vince Welnick, The Grateful Dead's final keyboardist and toured throughout the East Coast with The Vince Welnick Band from 2003-2006.

Earlier this week, Guberman played two nights with Phil & Friends at the Terrapin Nation Seder in San Rafael, CA.

Bahr Gallery is currently exhibiting "The British Invasion" through June 9, 2019. The show features posters announcing concerts by British Bands performing in America. Also on view are iconic or rarely seen late 1960s artwork from San Francisco-based rock concert poster artists including Wes Wilson, Victor Moscoso, Mouse & Kelley, and Rick Griffin.
