

Hamptons Weekend: Top 9 Things to Do Through February 2, 2020

January 21, 2020

by Julia Halsey

January heats up with theater, live music, film and art talks populating the list of possibilities for your Hamptons weekend. Things get started on Thursday night each week to get the weekend off to a good start. Read on for our list of the best events taking place through February 2, 2020 in The Hamptons. Reserve early as events sell out this time of year.

1. “Admissions” Performed by Hampton Theatre Company

The Hampton Theatre Company presents “Admissions” by Joshua Harmon at the Quogue Community Hall on Thursday and Friday at 7 p.m.; on Saturday at 8 p.m. and on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. through February 2, 2020. Special Talk Backs are held with the Cast and Director Andrew Botsford on Thursday, January 23, and Friday, January 24, 2020, immediately following the 7 p.m. production.

In “Admissions,” playing the diversity card cuts both ways in this provocative drama that pits a decision by a high school student against the progressive values (and life work) of his parents. Things begin to boil when Charlie claims he is the victim of reverse discrimination—because he is white—after not receiving early acceptance by an Ivy League university.

7. "The Curator's View" with Alicia Longwell at The Parrish Art Museum

Parrish Art Museum curator Alicia Longwell will speak about the permanent collection exhibition "What We See, How We See," on Friday, January 31, 2020, from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

This seven-part exhibition contextualizes work by a variety of artists through the lens of how they see and interpret the world around them, presenting distinct approaches by artists working in abstraction and figuration. The show features 125 paintings, works on paper, and sculpture by Charles Bell, Perle Fine, Jeffrey Gibson, Alex Katz, and Richard Prince and Saul Steinberg. In her talk, Longwell will make connections within and among the exhibition's individual thematic galleries.

Tickets are $12 or free for Museum Members, students and children. Click here for more information and to purchase tickets. The Parrish Art Museum is located at 279 Montauk Highway, Water Mill, NY 11976. www.parrishart.org.

8. “TAKEOVER 2020! Artists in Residence” Opening Reception at Southampton Arts Center

The Southampton Arts Center offers a following to last year’s popular “ARTIST TAKEOVER!” with a second edition that opens with a free reception on Saturday, February 1, 2020, from 6 to 8 p.m. followed by a dance party with DJ Mister Lama from 8 to 10 p.m.

“TAKEOVER 2020” presents works by Jodi Bentivegna, Michael Butler, Isadora Capraro, Franco Cuttica, Esly Escobar, Melinda Hackett, Erica-Lynn Huberty, Dinah Maxwell Smith, Miles Partington, and Kerry Sharkey-Miller. Each artist has been given their own space at SAC for a “pop-up” studio that may include samples of completed work and items of inspiration. Artists will be working on site in rotation until it closes on April 12, 2020.

Admission to the Reception is free. The Southampton Arts Center is located at 25 Jobs Lane, Southampton, NY 11968. Click here for more information.

9. Screening & Director Talk of “The Cameraman”

Bay Street Theater screens Edward Sedgwick and Buster Keaton’s “The Cameraman” followed by a conversation with writer and director Mary Hannon on Sunday, February 2, 2020, at 2 p.m.

Considered one of Buster Keaton’s best comedies, “The Cameraman” was his first film for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, a studio he joined in 1928, under legendary producer Irving Thalberg. The film was largely shot in New York, on locations which include Midtown Manhattan, Coney Island, and an empty Yankee Stadium. The film surrounds Buster buys a movie camera to impress Sally (Marceline Day), a pretty young secretary working for MGM Newsreels; and his fearless attempts to become a news cameraman.

Tickets are $15. Click here to purchase. Bay Street Theater is located at 1 Bay Street, Sag Harbor, NY 11963.
